

Elana Robertson, M.Sc.
Senior Vice President, Market Access

Elana Robertson, a South African, joined the TB Alliance in June 2014 in the role of Senior Vice President, Market Access. In this role she is responsible for increasing the access and adoption of new TB regimens in the high-burden TB countries.

Elana, has 22 years of experience in the Pharmaceutical Industry, where she has been responsible for the marketing and commercialization of vaccines and pharmaceuticals on a global, regional and country level.

Before joining the Pharmaceutical Industry Elana was a Lecturer in Physiology at the University of Witwatersrand and a Researcher at the University of Stellenbosch.

She holds a Masters Degree in Physiology from the University of Stellenbosch in South Africa.